- Must not abuse self, including physical abuse, threats, intimidation and or other conduct which threatens or endangers the health or safety of one's self
- No disorderly conduct or participation in any activity which disrupts the operations of the college or infringes on the rights of another member of the college community, including conduct that is disorderly, lewd or indecent, disturbs the peace, or assists or encourages another person to disturb the peace
- No sexual harassment including unwelcome gender-based conduct
- No unauthorized use of electronic or other devices, including making an audio or video record of any person while on college premises without his/her consent, if the recording is likely to cause distress or injury
- No reckless endangerment that creates an unreasonable risk of harm to another person or property, or is perceived as threatening the health or safety of another person or property
- No aiding, abetting, inciting, encouraging or assisting another person to commit any acts of misconduct

Students who violate the code of conduct have rights that include being notified in writing of their alleged violation and the right to a prompt, fair and impartial hearing. Students have the right to bring a supporter with them to attend any meetings to discuss the violation to tell their side of the story to a school official. Students also have the right to appeal any disciplinary decision by the student conduct officer or student conduct board or panel. They can appeal to the Vice President of Student Services at 509-533-7015 or glen.cosby@scc.spokane.edu. For more information about this process please contact PACE staff.

A student unable to comply with these rules will be subject to disciplinary action and/or termination from PACE Services classes/programs.
